Report on AIDS Day Programme

Today, our college organised a special programme as part of the AIDS Day Week celebration. This programme was organised under the guidance of Prof. Dr. Vijay Chauhan and programme coordinator Asst. Prof. Purnima koul and Asst. Prof. Aditi Mrudange.

The event began with the University Song, creating a sense of unity and respect among all attendees. This was followed by the presentation of slogans prepared by students for the slogan-writing competition. The creativity and awareness shown through the slogans set a thoughtful tone for the event.

After this, prizes were distributed to the winners of the poster-making competition as well as the essay-writing competition, recognising the efforts and talent of the participating students. The programme then continued with an informative speech by Manswini, a student of ITEP 3rd year, who spoke in detail about HIV. Her presentation helped spread awareness about the nature, causes, and misconceptions regarding the disease. Following her, Vikriti Jaiswal from B.Ed. shared her valuable views on HIV infection and its prevention, emphasising the importance of awareness and safe practices.

Further, Vaishnavi Pandey from B.Ed. delivered a speech in Marathi on AIDS, making the programme inclusive and multilingual. After the speeches, an engaging quiz competition was conducted by Samiksha and Parsis, students of ITEP 2nd year. All the students participated actively, making the session interactive and enjoyable. Towards the end, the Chairperson, Dr. Vijay Chauhan Sir, addressed the gathering. He spoke about HIV and AIDS, highlighted the importance of awareness, and appreciated the hard work of the students who contributed to preparing the programme.

Finally, the event concluded with the Vote of Thanks delivered by Angel, an ITEP 2nd year student, expressing gratitude to everyone involved for making the programme successful.
